Critical Reviews of Concerts, Oratorios, Operas; with analyses of the notable works performed, accounts of their composers, &c. 2. Notices of new music. 3. Musical News from all parts 4. Correspondence from musical persons and places. 5. Essays on musical styles, schools, periods, authors' compositions, instruments, theories; on musical education; on Music in its moral, social, and religious bearings; on Music in the Church, the Concert-room, the Theatre, the Chamber, and the Street, &c. 6. Translations from the best German and French writers upon Music and Art. 7. Occasional notices of Sculpture, Painting, &c. 8. Original and selected Poems, &c. Back numbers from the commencement can be furnished. Address (post-paid),

J. S. DWIGHT,
21 SCHOOL ST., BOSTON.

(From the New York Daily Tribune.)

There is no better musical critic in this country than John S. Dwight, of Boston, and few men are able to express what they have to say about music in a manner at once so poetic and precise. His articles are sure to please the learned in music, and to delight its lovers. We commend his journal unreservedly to our musical friends as a work which will be an able running commentary upon musical events, extracting from each its significance, varying its critical notices of music and musicians, both new and old, with biographical and entertaining details; and always true to what is most interesting and commanding in this noblest of the Arts.

(From the Boston Evening Transcript.)

Wherever there is a pianoforte, this Journal ought to be lying on it.
